VOL. XIV.--NO. 35. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY MARCH 17, 1874. PRICE--TEN CENTS.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE SUMNER OBSEQUIES.

BOSTON, March 1.—The committee in charge finding that the body and face of Sumner had greatly changed, did not open the coffin to-day. Immense crowds passed through Doric Hall leaving decorations and floral tributes.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass, March 1.—A letter from Sumner to a personal friend, dated March 20, 1873, states that his sickness resulted from injuries received 17 years before. He laments the fact that Americans had a false conception of his stand on the battle flag question which will be regretted in the broad daylight.

Temperance in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Owing to the non-conviction of parties indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, the police have been instructed hereafter to report the names of parties keeping open house and to arrest only in cases of flagrant violations of the law, thus winking at the side door business.

Probable Abolition of the Moiety System.

CHICAGO, March 16.—A Washington special says it has been represented in some quarters that the Ways and Means Committee have decided to modify existing laws than rather recommend their unconditional repeal, but the fact is the Committee has unanimously instructed Foster of Ohio, one of its members, to bring in a bill repealing every vestige of the law under which Sanborn, Jayne and others operated. It will probably be reported to the House this week, and there is no doubt whatever of its passage. Sanborn is here and desires that the law be so modified as to reduce the percentage of moiety, but the disposition of the House is in favor of the abolition of the moiety business, both in the excise and the custom laws.

Miscellaneous News.

OSWEGO, March 16.—A fire last night here caused a loss of $30,000. Insurance $17,000.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Owen Mangham, No. 200 West Twentieth street, threw a lighted kerosene lamp at his wife on Saturday night, and burned her so severely that she died yesterday. Mangham was committed to await the action of the Coroner.

Tweed--Once Again.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Judge Brady has granted the motion of Tweed's counsel to amend the Clerk's record of Tweed's sentence to conform to Judge Davis' language as taken by the stenographers, thus substituting the County Jail for the Penitentiary.

Further Investigation on the Tapis.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The House Committee on Pacific Railroads will hold a special meeting to-morrow to consult with the Government Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad in relation to the proposed legislation regulating subsidized railroads. Operations of Wyoming coal and other mining rings are to be investigated, the question of the further exemption of railroad lands from taxation, the propriety of having the principal office of the Union Pacific Company removed from Boston to some point on the line of road, and some other matters requiring legislation will also be considered.

Uprising of Slaves in Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The Cubans of this city received information of an uprising of the slaves on the sugar estates in the district of Maret, about 6 miles from Havana, in the neighborhood of Bahai Honda. The uprising began on the estates of Juquirre, and was fomented by poor planters who are under the impression that if the slaves should rise in their vicinity the authorities would feel bound to arm the whites to maintain their power at home, and thereby prevent them from being sent to fight on the eastern part of the Island. The Captain General has ordered troops to the vicinity of the trouble.

WEST INDIES.

HAVANA, March 16.—A letter gives another account of the attack on the volunteers between Nuevitas and Puerto Principe. It seems that on the arrival of the first band of volunteers at Nuevitas they found the railroad leading to Puerto Principe cut. They attempted to march to the latter place when they were attacked by the Cubans, losing 20 killed and 70 wounded. The remainder retired to Nuevitas.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Royal Quarrel in the Bonaparte Family.

PARIS, March 16.—Le Pays publishes a correspondence which shows that the Empress Eugenie and her son have finally broken off relations with Prince Napoleon because he has refused to go to Chiselhurst to-morrow.

Fenianism Once More.

LONDON, March 16.—A meeting in favor of Fenian amnesty in Hyde Park to-day was attended by 20,000 people. Good order prevailed.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

LACONNER, March 16.—A special from Lightning creek of the 16th inst. gives the following wash up for the past week: Spruce 96 ounces, Point 92 ounces, Van Winkle 130 ounces, Victoria 90 ounces, Vancouver 232 ounces. The Vulcan Company struck slum in their shaft last week and there were fears at one time that they would lose the shaft, but by great exertions they managed to save it.

LACONNER, March 16.—Weather changeable but mild; roads improving.

PUGET SOUND NOTES.

A gentleman who is just from along the Sound places us in possession of the following items of interest:

Business on the Sound is very quiet; mills mostly running on short time, but they are looking for better times ahead. Later in the season leading mill owners look for a change.

The steamer North Pacific made the run from Victoria to Tacoma, 115 miles, direct course, in the unequaled short time of 7 hours running time. L. M. Starr came over on her. Reached Portland from Victoria in less than 24 hours, making all the stops on the N. P. R. R. and on the Columbia river.

The new water works at Tacoma (new town) has just been completed, furnishing pure water from a gurgling spring which flows from the distant hills, ample for culinary and steamboat supplies.

A staunch earth and timber bulkhead along the face of the hills parallel to the railroad track, bars all slides of soft soil in the vicinity.

By the low rates of freight over the N. P. R. R. to the Sound many shippers forward that way.

Since the completion of the wharf at Tacoma two new stores and commission houses have been completed at the end of the track near the railroad hotel. A new ticket office and the completion of other improvements in and around the wharf and hotel will add to the convenience of transfers from steamers to the cars, or vice versa.

Capt. Ainsworth and General Sprague went over to Tacoma on the train Saturday, it is supposed, on business pertaining to the interests of the railroad.

The steamer Alida, Capt. Parker, alternates from Tacoma and Olympia then from Tacoma to Seattle.

After making her remarkably quick run from Victoria to Tacoma the steamer North Pacific goes for the present on her regular route until further notice.

The hotel on the wharf at Tacoma is about as large and complete a structure as you often meet with in this northern country.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The dinner given at Victoria last week in honor of some of the leading men in the Province is reported in the Colonist to have been the most gorgeous affair ever taking place in that section.

All the available water craft at Victoria are to be put on the route to Fort Wrangel.

The Guardian says that Col. Houghton sold his tract of land in New Westminster District for $15,000 to a gentleman who intends to bring out a colony of settlers.

It is stated that Mr Grahame has been appointed Governor of the Hudson Bay Company at Manitoba, and that Mr. Wm. Charles will succeed Mr Grahame in British Columbia.

At a late meeting of the Saanich Agricultural Society, it was resolved to hold their sixth annual Agricultural Exhibition on Thursday, the 1st of October.

On the night of the 8th of March six men belonging to H. M. S. Myrmidon, lying at Victoria, deserted with the Captain's gig. The ship's cutter was sent after them but returned unsuccessful, and the Myrmidon left in pursuit.

Powerful pumps were taken up to Victoria on the Prince Alfred, and will be used in a second attempt to raise the wrecked ship Ivanhoe.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Colonel Oliver P. Fetic, formerly in the United States army, an attache of the Custom House in this city, and recently proprietor of a necktie factory, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself through the head in his room in a house on Washington street. He shot himself twice through the head. The reason for suicide unknown.

Josephine Moulton bled to death last night from rupture of the varicose vein in the left leg. She was found by an officer in an alley off Broadway near Montgomery, and was taken to her residence where she soon expired.

The body of a female infant was found on the beach of Potrero near Hunters Point to-day. A case of infanticide.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—About 10 o'clock last night at the corner of First and Mission streets Wm. Handley stabbed a widow named Mary O'Connor and her son, inflicting wounds which may prove fatal. He wished to marry Mrs O'Connor, and on her refusing to do so he attacked her with a knife, cutting her severely in the face and neck. Her son came to her assistance and the fellow, mad with liquor, stabbed him. He was finally disarmed and taken into custody.

Young O'Connor, stabbed last night by Wm. Hanlon, is still alive, but no hopes of his recovery. Hanlon wounded himself with his knife and was struck with an ax during the efforts to arrest him, but he is not seriously hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Judge Dwinelle having decided that David Scannell is legally Chief of the Fire Department, and fined Whitney $300 and costs for having usurped the office, the friends of Scannell are arranging for a public jubilee over the event.

All preparations for the celebration of St. Patrick's Day have been completed, and the weather to-night promises to be pleasant to-morrow. A cold north wind is blowing and the sky cloudless.

Black Bear Quartz Mining Company has declared a dividend of 25 cents a share.

The Bank of California and S. F. Gas Company paid dividends to-day of $70,000 each.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Mrs. O'Connor and her son who were stabbed by Hanlon last night are reported in a critical condition to-night.

In the Board of Supervisors to-night a long petition was presented asking the Board to pass the order against granting any more licenses to men who keep dance-cellars where women are employed. The Board has not yet taken action on the petition presented by ladies at the last meeting.

The friends of Col. Robie who killed himself to-day think he did so while temporarily insane from the effects of neuralgia, a disease with which he had been afflicted a considerable length of time.

In the Board of Supervisors to-night Mr Lynch stated that our delegation at Sacramento is in favor of re-districting the city and creating a Board of twenty Supervisors; also He believed the delegation will not favor the proposition to build a canal or sewer on the line of the present site of Mission creek for the purpose of draining the southern portion of the city. He likewise stated that the delegation seems to be in favor of a law by which the Mayors will be deposed from the position of President of the Board of Supervisors and the members authorized to elect the presiding officer from their own body. He said several propositions had never been recommended by the Board or by its Committee on Amendments excepting the one relating to Mission creek canal or sewer. This had been recommended on sanitary grounds only, for it was well known that the health of the southern and western parts of the city was endangered by bad drainage. In support of this idea he cited the fact that during the recent epidemic scarlatina the greatest mortality and the greatest number of cases of the disease occurred in these portions of the city.

Interior California.

THE BANT GAP, March 16.—The railroad is again blocked. The snow fell fast yesterday afternoon and last night, drifting very much. The snow plow started west this morning, but only got as far as the half mile post before it stuck hard and fast. All the men say that shoveling is the only way to get the road clear. The snow is packed so tight on each side the track that the plow cannot dispose of the new snow. Yesterday's east bound passenger train is held at Alta, and No. 2 of to-day is at Summit. The storm has abated somewhat but snow still falls.

PLEASANTON, March 16.—A wrestling match took place this afternoon between Bill Jordan and Dennis Cannon for a small sum, resulting in a victory for Jordan on the third round. Considerable money changed hands. The losing party being dissatisfied is desirous of making a new match.

EMIGRANT GAP, March 16.—The storm seems to have spent its fury and is clear again. The railroad was cleared this afternoon by the combined aid of many shovelers together with a snow plow backed by eleven engines.

Yesterday's passenger train bound East passed here 21 hours behind time.

The Western Union Telegraph lines were working through by 12 o'clock to-day.

MARYSVILLE, March 16.—The election for city officers took place to-day and was conducted very quietly. The saloons so far as we can learn made no attempt to evade the new liquor law. Nine hundred and ninety-six votes were polled, the largest vote for several years. Two tickets were in the field, the Independent and Republican. Up to this hour, 9:30 P. M., the Dolly Vardens are far ahead on the tally list. No doubt the whole ticket is elected.

The weather has been squally this afternoon, raining, blowing, hailing and some lightning.

SACRAMENTO, March 16.—The Eastern train due here at 1 P. M. arrived at [illegible] this evening.

Owing to the showery weather and the consequent muddy condition of the streets the parade in honor of St. Patrick's Day which had been announced will not take place. The various organizations will, however, march to St. Rose's Church at 10:30, where appropriate services will be held, after which Hon. J. J. Murphy, Assemblyman, will deliver the oration, and Albert Hart, Governor's Secretary, will recite the poem composed by him for the occasion.

"Shorty" Hayes and Jacob Clark passed the night at the city prison en route to San Quentin, having received sentences each of thirty years at Auburn for the Forest Hill stage robbery, which together with twenty-one years for the Shasta stage robbery will probably last them for the term of their natural lives.

SANTA BARBARA, March 16.—About 3 P. M. to-day a fire broke out in the St. Vincent Roman Catholic College. The wind was blowing very high and the flames spread rapidly. Loss about $40,000. No insurance.

VALLEJO, March 16.—The city election passed off very quietly to-day. About 900 votes were polled. The great fight appeared to be for City Marshal. Probably S. J. Wright, formerly Sheriff of Butte county, is elected. The votes are not all counted, owing to cutting, and the counting will probably not be [illegible] until morning.

NEVADA.

RENO, March 16.—Weather this forenoon calm and warm. It has since clouded, and now a cold wind is blowing from the west with squalls of snow.

The train due here from the west at 1 A. M. was at Cisco this evening at 7 P. M. The passenger train due here to-morrow morning from the east is on time.

At Colfax, Dutch Flat, Emigrant Gap and Cisco the weather is cloudy, windy and cold.

A session of Court is being held at Walla Walla to determine whether or not it is a session of the Court under the statutes of Washington Territory.

PETER COOPER

REMINISCENCES OF AN OCTOGENARIAN—A MAN WHO HAS SEEN NEW YORK GROW FROM 60,000 TO 1,000,000 INHABITANTS.

At a dinner given by the Arcadian Club to Peter Cooper, the venerable philanthropist of New York City, on the occasion of his eighty-third birthday, the founder of Cooper Institute made the following handsome and interesting speech:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Arcadian Club: For the gracious manner and kindly words in which you have made me welcome to your hospitable home, and more hospitable hearts, I beg you to accept my cordial thanks, none the less sincere that they come from a heart in which the pulsations of eighty-three years have not enfeebled the appreciation of generosity and kindness. When the suggestion of the honor which you designed for me was communicated to me, I confess I was reluctant to accede to your wishes, because my acceptance seemed to imply a consciousness on my part of desert which I did not feel, and my reluctance was only overcome by the assurance that the recognition which you desired to make of my life-long desire to do my duty to the city of my birth and to my fellow men, might be useful in helping others, and especially the young, to do their duty in a community in which so much depends upon the voluntary actions of its individual members. If, then, I have done or accomplished anything which really merits your good opinion, let me say at once, and for all, that I have found and received full compensation in the satisfaction which I have derived from the consciousness of duty performed, and that the experience of a long life enables me to say that money and efforts expended for the general good are a better paying investment than any possible expenditure for personal gratification. On looking back, however, over my life I am compelled to make a remark in which most aged persons will sympathize, and that is how much I have seen come to pass, and how little I have been able to do in a long career, the cardinal rule of which has been to render some equivalent to society in some useful form of labor for each day of my existence.

When I was born New York contained [illegible] inhabitants. The upper limits of the city were at Chambers street. Not a single free school either by day or night existed. Gen. Washington had just entered upon his first term as President of the United States, the whole annual expenditure of which did not exceed $2,000,000, being about 40 cents per head of the population. Not a single steam engine had yet been built or erected on the American Continent, and the people were clad in homespun, and were characterized by the simple virtues and habits which are usually associated with that primitive garb. I need not tell you what the country now is, and what the habits and the garments of its people now are, or that the expenditure per capita of the General Government has increased fifteenfold. But I have witnessed and taken a deep interest in every step of the marvelous development and progress which have characterized this century beyond all the centuries which have gone before. Measured by the achievements of the years I have seen, I am one of the oldest men who have ever lived, but I do not feel old, and I propose to give the receipt by which I have preserved my youth. I have always given a friendly welcome to new ideas, and I have endeavored not to feel too old to learn—and thus though I stand here with the snows of so many winters upon my head, my faith in human nature, my belief in the progress of man to a better social condition, and especially my trust in the ability of men to establish and maintain self-government, are as fresh and as young as when I began to travel the path of life. While I have always recognized that the object of business is to make money in an honorable manner, I have endeavored to remember that the object of life is to do good. Hence I have been ready to engage in all new enterprises, and without incurring debt to risk the means which I had acquired in their promotion, provided they seemed to me calculated to advance the general good. This will account for my early attempt to perfect the steam engine, for my early attempt to construct the first American locomotive, for my connection with the telegraph in a course of efforts to unite our country with the European world, and for my recent efforts to solve the problem of economical steam navigation on the canals, to all of which you have so kindly referred. It happens to but few men to change the current of human progress as it did to Watt, to Fulton, to Stephenson and to Morse, but most men may be ready to welcome laborers to a new field of usefulness, and to clear the road for their progress.

This I have tried to do, as well in the perfecting and execution of their ideas as in making such provision as my means have permitted for the proper education of the young mechanics and citizens of my native city, in order to fit them for the reception of new ideas, social, mechanical and scientific, hoping thus to economize and expand the intellectual as well as the physical forces, and provide a larger fund for distribution among the various classes which necessarily make up the total of society.

I feel that nature has provided bountifully for the wants of all men, and that we need only knowledge, scientific, political and religious, and self-control, in order to eradicate the evils under which society has suffered in all ages. Let me say then in conclusion that my experience of life has not diminished my hopes for humanity, that my sun is not setting in clouds and darkness, but is going down cheerfully in a clear firmament, lighted by the glory of God, who should always be venerated and loved as the infinite source and fountain of all Light—Life—Power—Wisdom and Goodness.

I wish to add a word about the origin of Cooper Union. It happened so long ago, since my election to the Common Council—that I really cannot tell what year it was [laughter]—but I remember meeting a gentleman of this city then who had just returned from France, and he was telling me what great advantage he derived from attending the Polytechnic Institute of Paris, an institution supported by the Government. What interested me most deeply was his remark that he found hundreds of young men attending that institution, living on a bare crust of bread a day to get the benefit of the lectures, and that representation brought home to me so forcibly my own wants when I was an apprentice and had no opportunities to get what I most wanted, that I determined then, if I should ever be able to get the means, I would try to supply the want to the youth of my native city; and the institution you have so kindly alluded to is the result of my [illegible] that determination.

Gentlemen, I again thank you one and all for the great honor and the personal kindness implied in this reception, which I frankly confess to be one of the pleasantest features of my life.

EUGENE CITY ITEMS

The primaries for the election of delegates to an Independent County Convention were held Saturday. The meetings in this city were largely attended and the utmost harmony prevailed. The meeting at Springfield is said to have been the largest primary meeting ever held there. The following named delegates were elected: North Eugene—Allen Bond, A. J. Zumwalt, Jas. Perkins, W. C. Parkerson and St. John Skinner. South Eugene—John Bailey, J. W. Skaggs, Jesse Crow, J. H. Ames, Thos. Belshaw, H. H. Gale, J. W. Jackson. Springfield—Jas. Stevenson, Geo. H. Armitage, M. H. Harlow and T. D. Edwards.

Hon. John Burnett of Benton county announces himself as an independent candidate for the office of District Judge. No man in the District is better qualified than he to fill that responsible position.

Corvallis had a few smashing runaways last week but no serious damage was done to any person.

GRANT COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

A CONVENTION WAS A CONVENTION—NOT PEACE BUT THE SWORD—SOME NOMINATIONS—AN INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT—ETC., ETC.

CANYON CITY, March 11, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Business of all kinds is dull. The season thus far has been unusually severe, but the weather for the last few days has been quite pleasant.

The Democratic County Convention met here on last Saturday, and after having effected an organization elected W. B. Laswell, Neal McNulty and J. N. Clark delegates to the Democratic State Convention.

The Convention then proceeded to the nomination of a Legislative and county ticket. W. H. Clark, J. N. Clark and C. Reynolds were presented for State Senator. Upon balloting W. H. Clark was declared the nominee. C. Reynolds and Geo. Kinsley with several others were named for Assemblyman, all declining except Reynolds and Kinsley. Reynolds was declared the nominee six to one. Next in order was the County Judge. G. I. Hazeltine, Eli Lester, R. Marshall (a relative of the C. J., it must be very distant), and W. Harrison were nominated for County Judge. Upon the second ballot Eli Lester was chosen as the nominee.

Up to this juncture things went smoothly, but here came the tug of war. There could be but one candidate for Sheriff, and there were three principal aspirants, namely: R. C. Reed, Sam Chittenden and Frances Wallace, between whom the contest seemed pretty equally balanced. After thirty-four or thirty-five ballots, during which time divers and sundry other persons were brought forward, it was determined by the Convention to pass over the nomination for Sheriff and proceed to make the other nominations, which was effected amicably. James Robinson received the nomination for County Clerk. The other nominees were: For Treasurer, J. J. Hague; wood Assessor —— Motley. County Commissioners, W. S. Southworth and H. Workings. Surveyor, George Kinsely. School Superintendent, W. Harrison. Coroner, J. N. Clark.

It now being about midnight and the next day being the Sabbath, the members of the Convention, having the fear of God before their eyes, as all Democratic conventions have—they adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning, the 9th inst. Perhaps the Lord's Day would have been less profaned if the Convention had remained in session. During the recess old angers were fired up and new ones brought into requisition, till if the delegates were not terribly bored they were, as P. K. V. Corncob would say — wonderfully perforated.

On Monday morning at 9 o'clock, the Convention met. After some balloting for Sheriff with the same result as on Saturday, all the nominees withdrew and Johnson and Kimberlin were placed in nomination and balloted for, which resulted in the nomination of Mr Johnson.

The course of true love never runs smooth; it is not even the true love of office. Some of the Convention succeed to call in question the fealty of the nominee for County Judge to the Democratic party (who, by the way, had presided over the Convention) and he was called on to explain. It seems that he has been charged with having affiliated with an independent movement that is going on in this county, and of which we will post you in due time. Suffice it to say the candidate refused to give his explanation, which proved satisfactory to some and very unsatisfactory to others.

The Republicans hold their primaries on the 14th and their convention on the 18th of this month. I can't now tell you what they will do, for the keenest and sharpest eyed politician in the county cannot tell how political parties stand or what they propose to do aside from the [illegible] that is always in. You will hear from the Republican Convention in the course of time. Yours,

X. Y. Z.

THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE

DAYTON, OHIO, March 9.—The Women's Temperance Crusade was continued to-day with renewed vigor, under favorable weather, and attracted great crowds of people, who followed the four detachments into which the crusaders were divided, from one saloon to another. A number of saloons were visited, the proprietors receiving the fair and fervent guests with but cold courtesy, while the crowds who filled the places alternately cheered and jeered. At several beer saloons jugs were emptied by the thirsty throng with greater rapidity than almost ever known before, several places selling more to-day than they ordinarily do in a week. There were many drunken men on the streets to-night, and a free fight occurred, in which a policeman was badly beaten. The excitement is increasing, and apprehensions of disagreeable results are felt. No one has yet closed or signed the pledge.

BELLEFONTAINE, OHIO, March 9.—Another saloon succumbed to-day, making six which have closed since the women's movement began.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, March 9.—A meeting of twenty-five representatives of leading wholesale grocery houses in this city to-night adopted a resolution declaring their intention to continue dealing in liquors under the law, and that they do not propose to be driven by any threats of withdrawal of patronage from their conscientious convictions in regard to dealing in any article of commerce that the public demand. The first surrender to the crusaders occurred to-night. Fair, the proprietor of one of the largest billiard rooms in the city, has published a card saying that the women's temperance movement has furnished him the opportunity for doing what he has long been considering, and that from this date no liquor will be sold at his place.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, March 9.—The temperance women to-day held prayer meetings and seventy-five, divided in four squads, and visited twenty saloons, but obtained no signers to the dealer's pledge. The ladies profess not to be discouraged, as they are obtaining many signers to the temperance pledge, and feel that they are exerting a good influence on the public generally.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A meeting of clergymen was held in Association Hall this afternoon to consider what steps are necessary or advisable to take for the promotion of the temperance movement. After a general discussion of the question a committee was appointed to whom all suggestions for a plan of operations are to be referred, to be reported to a future meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The police to-day entered complaint against twenty taverns for keeping side doors to their bars open, contrary to orders.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 9.—A Sunday temperance meeting is called here. The Mayor's order to close saloons yesterday was generally disregarded.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT AT McMINNVILLE

We are permitted to publish the following extract from a private letter received by a gentleman of this city from a friend at McMinnville, dated last Saturday:

On last Thursday night eight women called at the saloon; on Friday afternoon and Friday evening thirteen, and on Saturday evening twenty.

The ladies have organized a society under the name of the Temperance Alliance, with Mrs. M. Fuley President, Mrs. S. W. Spencer Vice President, Miss Mary Garrison Secretary, and Miss Belle Garrison Bookkeeper. The members of this society call day and night at the saloon. Mrs. A. calls for Mr. A., her husband, then Mrs. B., Mrs. C., and so on till all have called.

Several men have signed the pledge never to be seen in a saloon again.

This week they intend to march with a stronger force, as they are determined to drive King Alcohol from their midst.

THE TERRITORIES

Mayor Whitman of Walla Walla has gone on a visit East.

The [illegible] which [illegible] the whole town by the ears.

The total expenditure in support of public schools in Arizona last year was $11,060.12.

Fred Drew, who has been in Peru for some time past acting in a business capacity for the Port Gamble Mill Co., has returned to Puget Sound.

Capt. W. Hall and party have arrived at Port Ludlow from San Francisco, and will build there a 400 ton schooner for the California coasting trade.

Capt. J. C. Glidden came up on the last trip of the Dakota to take command of the new fore and aft schooner building at Port Blakely for Hooper Brothers of San Francisco.

The Seattle Dispatch of last Thursday says that Hon. S. Garfielde was in that city, and according to rumor, negotiating for the building of a new steamer for his mail route from Port Townsend to Sitka.

Ship Lookout and bark Orient arrived at Port Townsend on the 13th from San Francisco. Schooner Occident arrived at Port Blakely on the 12th from Portland. Ship Isaac Jeanes sailed from Seabeck for San Francisco on the 10th.

Fidalgo Island is the southwestern portion of Whatcom county, W. T. It has an area of 30 square miles, or 19,200 acres, and a population of 85 souls. A mail steamer touches twice a week, and the island has its own school house, postoffice and store.

Lieut. Col. Dodge, promoted to the Twenty-third Infantry, vice General Crook, is to leave New York en route for the headquarters of his regiment some time next month, coming across the plains to Santa Fe, thence by way of Camp Apache to Prescott.

The miners in the Palouse country have been at work most of the winter, but have not washed any. The ground where they are at work prospects better than was expected when first opened, and indications are very favorable for a good clean up. The snow is about three feet deep at the diggings, and about five in other places around there.

Capt. Starr settled with the drovers for the 65 head of cattle thrown off the North Pacific and supposed to be lost, at the rate of $30 per head, with the proviso, however, that that sum should be returned for all animals subsequently discovered and delivered in Victoria. Twenty-seven head have since been captured on San Juan Island, saving Capt. Starr $810.

At a meeting of the citizens of Lewiston, the following nominations were made for city offices: For Mayor, Seth S. Slater; for Councilmen, C. A. Thatcher, H. Squier, Geo. Glass and J. P. Vollmer; for Treasurer, W. P. Hunt; for Recorder, J. K. Vincent; for Marshal, J. Jess. The Democratic nominees are: Mayor, H. W. Stanton; Councilmen, T. M. Curry, M. M. Williams and D. Dumas; Recorder, D. J. Warner; Treasurer, A. Binnard; Marshal, D. McElwee.

Parties arriving at Prescott from Camp Verde report the surrender at that reservation of a band of sixty-two renegade Apaches, who had absconded some time back to the mountains, where their retreat became known to Agent Williams, who sent them word to return at once upon condition that the young bucks should be confined for one month in the guard house at Camp Verde, the old men, women and children to remain on the reservation. This they did, and the young men, numbering seventeen, are now under charge of the military. The appearance of the whole party was wretched, indicating great suffering from hunger and cold in the mountains.

Here is what the Tacoma Tribune learns about Stickeen: It is reported to be terribly cold on the Stickeen river, and worse and worse every mile further interior. An Indian had come down, and got over to Wrangle as the California came by. He says that one white man only, Mr. Buck, had got through to the Dease lake diggings, but that the entire road was lined with hundreds of poor fellows bravely toiling on. All are covered up as warmly and heavily as possible, the faces being shielded entirely with tightly drawn furs, having three of the slightest apertures to see and breathe through. Notwithstanding every precaution, however, scores of the men have been frozen, and a great many have turned their steps back toward the coast. Another month will be amply soon enough for men to go to Cassiar.

OREGON

J. S. Palmer, present Sheriff of Benton county, announces himself an independent candidate for re-election.

The Common Council of Corvallis defeated the ordinance requiring a property qualification from voters in the municipal elections.

A friend at Pendleton sends the following from that place under date of March 12th: There is nine feet of snow on the summit of the Blue Mountains. Weather quite pleasant, but not warm enough to raise the mountain streams.

The steamer Beaver claims now to be the fastest boat on the Upper Wallamet. She is said to have made the run from Portland to Salem a few days ago in ten hours and twenty minutes, including forty-five minutes in the locks.

Wilbur Encampment, No. 17, I. O. R. C., Silverton, Marion county, was organized March 11, 1874, by Rev. R. G. Hawn. The officers are: C. W. Todd, [illegible]; J. Sutherland, [illegible]; Miss Mary Hill, S. C.; W. T. Mosley, J. C.; Miss Mary Chapman, W. S.; Mrs. Hortense Real, W. T.; W. A. Mooney, C. of H.

GENERAL NOTES

The editorials of the Chicago Inter Ocean are very good indeed, but they would be considerably more effective if they were cut asunder in the middle—the half is so much better than the whole.—Buffalo Courier. The Chicago Inter Ocean has always been one of our favorite exchanges, and we read its editorials with something of that wild enthusiasm which the pedestrian feels who has just finished a little thirty mile promenade over newly plowed cornfields.—Brooklyn Argus.

It is said that there is a dog in Iowa which its owner, a farmer named Tremaine, values at $2,000,000. We have a dog ourselves which we value somewhere in the neighborhood of that sum, but to a warm personal friend who wanted him badly, and seemed to think he couldn't get along without him, it is not wholly impossible that in a moment of convivial joy, when the heart beats high and warm with dance and song and banquet wine, we might be induced to sell him for fifty cents.—Cairo Herald.

Saturday morning, just before daylight, a chimney in a Detroit boarding house was burned out, and there was great excitement, it being the belief that the house would go. The landlady rushed up stairs and pounded at the doors, screaming to the boarders to get up. All jumped out but a Toledo man, and she cried hard away he called out, "What the row? Get up, get up. The house is on fire," she screamed. "Is it, eh?" he growled back. "Well, what is that to me? I don't own the old caravansary, do I?"

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer who knew intimately Catharine Garniss, the first wife of Chief Justice Chase, sends the incident apropos to the recent prominence which has been given to that lady's name: "I knew from her own lips how difficult it was for her to decide to marry Mr. Chase, and shall never forget her apology for not bringing him to see me on one occasion. 'He is so uncouth, and has such an unmanageable mouth! Wait until I polish him up a little—then I will bring him to you and show him off.' These were her laughing words. They were just married then, and he was scarcely the sort of a person to submit to the polishing process. Eighteen months later she was dead."

TUESDAY MORNING MARCH 17 1874

OREGON'S RAILWAY

The feeling in this community in favor of the passage of the bill introduced by Senator Hipple to aid in the construction of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railway is unanimous While all agree that the passage of the bill may be delayed if not prevented by the general opposition throughout the country to further subsidies to railway corporations there is none so blind to the wants of this section of the country, as not to see that the construction of this road would insure a prosperity and growth such as no other enterprise having a prospect of success could secure The mere fact of opening a direct line of transit between Oregon and the Mississippi Valley would stimulate every department of trade and industry in Oregon and the adjoining Territories by saving to the district of country thus accommodated all the profits now paid to San Francisco and the immense sum of freight and passenger charges between here and San Francisco which is now paid to a company having nothing in common with Oregon except its name To the impulse thus given to our business interests, might be added the influence of the Asiatic trade We are of the opinion that the advantages to be derived from this trade, in the immediate future have been greatly overrated, for we cannot conceive it possible that those commercial centers which have hitherto enjoyed the benefits of so magnificent a commerce are going to stand idly by and see it slip from their grasp in a day Nevertheless, it is certain that a considerable part of this trade would come this way from the day the road was opened, and this amount would constantly increase under the inexorable laws of commerce till the bulk of the entire traffic would eventually pass this way And then to these considerations may be added that the route proposed for this line of road, though north of that traversed by the Central Pacific, is far less liable to be obstructed by snow In spite of its forty miles of snow sheds in the Sierra Nevada, the Central Pacific has been blockaded often, nearly every winter laying its embargo upon travel for a longer or shorter period, During the winter just past the difficulty from this source has been unusually great, How would this be on the route proposed for the P D, & S L road? The 'oldest inhabitant" can not point to a winter in which there has fallen snow enough in the Columbia river pass to prevent the running of cars The Oregon Steam Navigation Company's railway at the Cascades—right at the middle of the pass through the mountains, is never obstructed And as for the country east of the Cascade mountains and lying between these and the proposed junction with the Central Pacific, it is certainly not more liable to the inconvenience of a snow blockade, than the corresponding portion of the Central Pacific road So this northern road would be equally free from snow east of the main range of mountains, and entirely free from obstruction from that cause, in crossing the range This is no small item in the advantages to accrue to this country from the construction of the proposed road

This application for Government aid is not open to the objections that have generally been urged against the subsidies heretofore granted to railway companies It is not proposed to withdraw a part of the public domain from settlement, and confer upon a corporation that which ought to be reserved for homes for the people The bill provides simply that the United States shall pay the interest for twenty years, at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, on the bonds of the Company to be issued as the road—narrow gauge—completed, to an amount not exceeding $10,000 per mile This would be $500 per annum on each mile of road built, or, assuming the whole distance to be about 770 miles, $385,000 per year, in the aggregate In consideration of this aid, it is provided that the Company shall forever carry all the mails, troops, supplies, and public property of the Government necessary to be transported over the road free of charge Senator Hipple, in his speech on the bill, showed that a sum nearly equal to this is actually paid annually, at the present time for carrying the mails in stage coaches over routes that would be supplied by this road and he asserted that the transportation of troops and Government property costs even a larger sum than the mails If this statement is correct—and we have no reason to dispute it, as it has been frequently made for the last two years out of Congress—no argument is needed to demonstrate that the measure is one of economy to the Government as well as advantage to a section of the Republic that is wholly unprovided with facilities for transportation

STILL SIGNING

A gentleman who has been taking an interest in the Independent movement in this county, informs us that on yesterday quite a large number of persons called at his place of business to sign the call for an Independent ticket saying they had not had an opportunity to attach their signatures before the paper was published He had no copy at hand but clipped one from the OREGONIAN and in a short time fifteen persons had signed it. The publication of the call with the long list of voters comprising so much of the intelligence enterprise and wealth of the community caused a very decided sensation on the streets The old political hacks and standing candidates for office looked blank and grim while the liberal-minded of all parties who are willing to lay aside party machines and labor together for the best interests of the community wore countenances beaming with happiness at the bright prospects of the movement Brighter will their faces beam on the evening of the 1st of June, and more elongated will be the countenances of the people who believe the name of Democrat or Republican is strong enough to override all considerations of public welfare

Here's richness! J O M editor-in-chief of the Bulletin and private secretary to Senator J Hipple has been to hear Wendell Phillips For a good many years some misguided people have had a kind of sneaking notion that Phillips was something of an orator It seems this is all a delusion J O M says so And J O M tells us just why he says so—goes into a philosophical analysis of the great agitator lecture and intersperses his [illegible] critique with a few hints as to style etc which ought to insure rapid improvement were it not that it is exceeding hard to teach an old dog new tricks J O M tells us there is no warmth no heartiness no rousing enthusiastic view in his (Phillips) delivery This is melancholy A good square, rousing enthusiastic view is a thing much to be desired We don't know exactly what it is but suppose the orator who can detect a trade lurking round the shores of Japan or hear weird voices coming up to the ear of the republic has it—but Mr O'Meara (the cat is out of the bag now) says moreover "Phillips is a practised clever expert very confident dogmatic talker but neither an orator nor a rhetorician Now J O M is a rhetorician Any one who has mused in pensive sadness over his forty line sentences or wrestled with a single squad of his adjectives knows it to be true [illegible] used, clever expert very confident dogmatic isn't a corporal's guard of the immense army behind It's only a line of skirmishers thrown out to reconnoiter

Minister Sickles took leave of President Serrano on the 24th of February The record does not show that any tears were shed but it is to be presumed by all who love Sickles that the Spanish people were loth to part with the heroic individual who when twenty or thirty hoodlums at Madrid gathered at his front door telegraphed in trepidation to Washington that he feared assassination and would leave his post of duty immediately On the other hand all who believe that the representative of a free people should be able to rule his own spirit will join with the weak stomached people who cannot swallow Erie jobs in congratulating the republic on getting rid of a testy old gentleman who would have derived infinite satisfaction from a bloody war between the republics

There is a queer mingling of the sacred and the ludicrous in the notice served by certain ladies of Washington City on the liquor dealers of that place "We earnestly entreat you for the sake of your own spiritual welfare, and for the preservation from ruin of our husbands and sons that you abandon the immoral and wicked business of selling intoxicating liquors We will be at your place of business to pray with you next Saturday Come with us and we will do you good And may God have mercy on your soul by order of the committee

The Bulletin says we misstate the facts when we allege that certain newspapers of Oregon have pronounced for the People's movement, and yet in the same number the Bulletin declares itself in favor of an Independent ticket There must be something wrong about a political movement in which the Bulletin is anxious to lead We take this opportunity to correct our former statement in one important particular we omitted to state that the Dallas Liberal Republican is foremost in the good work in Polk county

The Evening News says the number of signatures to the call for an Independent ticket has reached eight hundred and thirty-nine The ring will have to import and repeat at a most extraordinary rate to beat the ticket that goes into the field with this send off, provided it is a good ticket as we have every reason to believe from the character of the Committee it will be A few pictures of Grant, at $2 50 apiece, will not answer the purpose this time It will require a few hundreds

Mr Sanborn can well afford a reduction in the percentage hitherto allowed him He has on hand ten million dollars worth of claims from which if the law be not changed he will realize five million dollars Congress can not find a more inviting place for Mr Dawes little knife—conceding always that Congress is looking for such a place It is plain that this moiety system breeds corruption The proposed bill will abolish it altogether

Information wanted of one Joseph Holt When last heard from he was engaged in pepperbox practice at long range, with a party by the name of Andrew Johnson—Alderman etc He will learn something to his disadvantage by calling on the House Military Committee before whom a bill to abolish the office of Judge Advocate General is now pending

In the fight which the New York Tribune made last fall over the imprisonment of its city editor Shanks for contempt of court it has come out on top by a large majority Britton the offending District Attorney, has been removed by Governor Dix, for grave official misconduct

PUBLIC OPINION

On the Connecticut Democratic platform If the Eastern Democracy could go on putting such stuff in their platforms they would at the next National Convention find themselves very strongly antagonized by their brothers of the West and South We out here are not the least desirous of returning to specie payments but we do want and must have a good many more greenbacks We are not going to stand the specie resumption nonsense —Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem)

Mr Dawes clearly points out the dangers which surround the Republican party, and no amount of declamation can deprive his facts of their force and pertinency The way to retrench is to retrench Resolving in favor of it is played out —St Louis Democrat (Rep)

So matters stand Congress talking and blustering and doing nothing Such a state of things is absolutely disgraceful and shows the inferiority of the men who are chosen to make laws —Des [illegible] News (Rep)

It is the duty of Congress to guarantee to each State a republican form of government If the occasion which was contemplated by the framers of the Constitution when they penned that remarkable provision has not risen in this Louisiana case it is difficult to conceive of one in which the power could be properly exercised —New Orleans [illegible] (Ind)

The Democratic party is not dead It is not dying and is not going to die It has stood the civil war It has faced and defied martial law It has stood negro suffrage and Southern military reconstruction It has survived the amendments Six years of Grant have not been able to kill it and we are satisfied that it will stand anything —[illegible] (Dem)

If General Grant is not thinking of a third term for himself he is preparing the way for Ben Butler —[illegible] (Ind)

It is not probable that Grant can command a third nomination According to present appearances Morton is the one most likely to receive the nomination in 1876 —Chicago [illegible] (Ind)

People may as well make up their minds that whatever other merits our national legislators possess that of paying their postage bills is not among the number —[illegible] (Rep)

On the whole the present Temperance movement must afford a great deal of satisfaction to the woman's rights advocates They seem to have accidentally blundered upon the only means by which their waning cause could have been revived —Cleveland [illegible] (Rep)

It is simply impossible that a President who sincerely resolved to reform the civil service upon the principles which President Grant has approved should have nominated Mr Simmons.—Harper's Weekly (Rep)

DIO LEWIS AND THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE —There is a point to this one from the Chicago Times when it is understood that Dio Lewis received for his services in stirring up the temperance sentiment in Ohio the sum of $50 per day

Telegraphing to Worcester Massachusetts Dio Lewis said "Fifty times a day I thank God that I have lived to see this great uprising of my countrywomen" Thus we get at Dio's own estimate of the value of his expressions as for instance

[illegible]

AN ODDITY IN NEW YORK POLITICS —In the field of politics an apparently slight event may sometimes prove to be well worthy of attention The new relations established between Gov Dix and the so-called Liberal faction is from this point of view deserving of a passing notice The Liberals [illegible] Dix [illegible] and down dale as the old saying goes when the Republicans nominated him in 1872 But the bloody chasm has gradually been [illegible] and now we find the Governor and his Liberal assailants shaking hands in the most friendly—we may almost say enthusiastic manner The John Cochrane organs cannot find language in which to express their admiration of the Governor He is the greatest man that ever lived In 1872 they said he was the greatest [illegible] but we will not quote what they said What all this portends we do not know but we are inclined to think it means something Those of us who live the longest will see the most—which is we trust a perfectly safe observation to make —N Y Times Feb 23

THE WAY TO RETRENCH —The Cincinnati Gazette says

The way to retrench the national expenditures is to reduce the army and navy bureaus to reduce the number of navy yards to stop the rebuilding and refitting of rotten hulks to provide for the gradual reduction of the expanded upper grades in our army and navy and vigorously to lop off the excrescences that have grown upon our military establishments during a great war to abolish useless Custom Houses to curtail the number of foreign ministers (it is no matter how far this is carried) to reduce the multitude of consuls and call home those sent out on supervising or roving missions which are nothing more than benefices to favorites; to cut down the official force in the departments at Washington not less than one fourth, to stop the practice of roving Treasury or Postoffice missions which are mere licenses to travel at the public expense to abolish useless offices everywhere with remorseless hand, to lay up or sell out the useless revenue cutters which are used only for pleasure excursions This is a beginning, and it would obviate the necessity of stopping necessary or beneficial appropriations

SEMMES INVITED TO NEW YORK —We find the following curious statement credited to the Mobile (Ala) Register As a strong evidence of the effect of time in healing all animosities we note the receipt by Admiral R Semmes of an invitation from a post of the Grand Army of the Republic at Rome, N Y, to deliver a lecture at that place this winter for the benefit of the Gravestone Fund The letter says The cruise of the Alabama or anything that in your judgment would be of interest would be acceptable and that the people of Central New York would extend to you a cordial welcome We are confident that the Admiral would be much pleased to assist in commemorating the gallant dead of the Union army but ex-Confederates have been reconstructed right out of their boots since those events sought to be commemorated and all have to work pretty hard to make an honest living and, as the Admiral is no exception to this rule, he cannot spare the time for so long a journey

As soon as the Congressional chaplain closes his prayer in the House the members begin an almost general clapping of hands, the method they have of calling pages to their side Recently an elderly gentleman was present during such a scene for the first time, and exclaimed "Well that beats me! I don't see anything in that prayer worth cheering"

Minister Jewell, in a letter to a New England friend, from Russia, says "This government is, of its kind perfection and clock work itself The Emperor is a man of brains force and progress and I think has a real love for his people They certainly appear very fond of him all classes"

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 17, 1874.

CITY.

WORD FOR REPORTERS.—A friend of ours who certainly knows how it is himself has handed us the following definition of a reporter the same which we publish for the benefit of the fraternity and the public generally "What is a reporter" He is a machine supposed, by his employer to be without conscience or obligation except as to his special duty He is hired with that understanding and is expected to publish every scrap of information he can secure if worth publication He has no right to violate confidences for the simple reason that he has no right professionally, to enter into them It is professionally understood that everything which comes to his net is a fish He goes upon the supposition that he is at liberty to publish everything that is related to him unless a request to the contrary is made People are intelligent enough now a days to know that a reporter is constantly on the qui vive for items and if they impart one in his hearing they expect that it will be published and yet there are those who affirm that a reporter has no right to use information imparted to him unless there is a distinct understanding to that effect. Now this is absurd It is more it is preposterous, to claim that a reporter should make a special contract for every item he secures. There would be little in the papers under that rule, for somebody is always interested in 'keeping out' every item that occurs People pay money for news, and a reporter is expected to get everything that is afloat and it is only by by listening quietly to long and sometimes tedious conversations, standing unconcernedly on crowded corners or striding carelessly with wide open ears through hotel halls, that he can garner the grains for his columns. If he was to stop every man who opened his mouth inform him that a reporter stood by, and take out his note book to record the man's speech the very party who complains would throw down the papers in disgust and snarl that there is nothing in them" We submit, then, that it is the right and duty of the reporter to not only chronicle everything he can get, but to obtain it in any manner he can, provided he violates no confidences, and this he has no right to enter into The only way for a grumbler to protect himself is to be silent when the active reporter is around."

LEBANON GRANGE.—Mr A J Dufur agent for the Grangers throughout the State returned to this city on Sunday from Linn county He informs us that the Grangers in and about Lebanon had a very pleasant and profitable meeting at that place last Saturday The Fourth Degree of the Order was conferred on 17 members On that interesting occasion the large Masonic Hall, at Lebanon was densely crowded, with members of the Grange and invited guests from neighboring Lodges. There were present ten Grand Masters besides several Past Grand Masters. So crowded was the building that a portion of the ceremonies of conferring degrees were omitted as it would require a large number of persons to congregate in the middle of the room and it was deemed hardly safe Mr Dufur informs us that there are over 100 active members of the Lebanon Grange. The members are composed, with hardly an exception, of the most wealthy, influential and substantial farmers of that portion of Linn county A large proportion of the membership is composed of the wives of most of the Grangers being likewise members of the Order He reports it as being one of the most thrifty, active and useful Granges of the State Most of Saturday was devoted to conferring degrees and transacting other important business connected with the Order The meeting was addressed at some length by Mr Dufur

THE PARADE.—This being St Patrick's Day it is the intention of our Irish citizens to observe the returning anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint in the customary manner of music, parade, oration and ball The procession will form at 11 o'clock on Third street, right resting on Oak, and will move as follows Down Third to Ash down Ash to Front, up Front to Alder, up Alder to First up First to Jefferson, up Jefferson to Fourth, up Fourth to St Mary's Academy, where the pupils will perform vocal and instrumental exercises, after which the procession will countermarch down Fourth to Oak, down Oak to First, up First to Oro Fino Hall where the oration will be delivered by Rev P F Gibney. After the literary exercises the several organizations and societies will reform and march to their respective halls A general invitation is extended to all Irishmen and friends of Ireland to participate Those coming in organized bodies will be assigned their proper position by the Grand Marshal This evening a grand ball will be given at Ankeny's Hall under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Society, and also one at the Emmet Guard Armory under the direction of the United Irishmen

ALBANYWARD.—The city was honored yesterday and last evening with the presence of a large number of delegates en route to attend the Democratic State Convention which will convene at Albany to-morrow. Eastern Oregon is well represented and also the several counties down the Columbia As usual we did not omit to observe gathered about the street corners, many little interesting groups and knots of these gentlemen who hold credentials in their right breast pockets and are tending to render lasting services to the commonwealth Discussing the somewhat [illegible] features of the present political outbreak constituted the principal topic of conversation yesterday and last night not unrelieved with frequent 'smiles' more substantial than Bret Harte's which was 'child-like and bland' This morning these delegates and all the retinue of camp followers who are always found in the wake of Conventions take the train Albanyward Of their doings and sayings our readers shall be timely informed.

BRIG SIDI.—The latest intelligence from the French brig Sidi, which was stranded some time ago would indicate that the prospects of getting her out of the present situation of danger and into deep water, are not so encouraging as her recent purchasers might desire. Parties who are just from Astoria inform us that the vessel is fast working her way into the sand Showing at least six feet below the surface, and each recurring tide only causes the hull to settle farther down. The vessel has settled over on one side and as the tide ebbs and flows it works the body to and fro and thus causes the hull to be more and more imbedded During the time the tide ebbs, the brig is on dry ground for about six hours, but when the waters rise in the hull is well night submerged Already she is partially filled with water The bolts and planks are beginning to start and unless some steps are speedily taken it is feared the Sidi will become a hopeless and helpless wreck.

UPPER COLUMBIA.—Freight is being received by the O S N Company at this place for various points along the Upper Columbia notwithstanding navigation has not been resumed, nor are prospects at present very encouraging. Celilo is the highest point to which freight can be transported at present The river is still exceedingly low—lower many assert than they have seen it at this season of the year for a long time At least two feet more of water will be required before boats can begin to run again Prospects are flattering for very high water the present season Immense quantities of snow have descended [illegible] the past winter months and all that is needed to unlock the icy fetters and [illegible] the mountains to yield up their watery stores is a few weeks of warm pleasant sunshine Such weather cannot be expected during March but the glad sunshine and genial showers of April are what the [illegible] and cavalier, hang their hopes upon

A COURAGEOUS [illegible].—One John Daugherty, who is too well known [illegible] to require unnecessary [illegible] or explanation was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge preferred by his wife Mrs Daugherty alleges that her valorous John did not approve of her conduct in some particular regard whereupon he, like a courageous protector of the sanctity of his family hearthstone proceeded to chastise her according to his own pleasure. She gently demurred to that questionable mode of procedure and that is why her liege is now confined to the cell This morning Daugherty will have an opportunity to explain the little irregularities of his domestic life He has been married but a very short time Certainly an interesting episode in the history of his brief honeymoon

[illegible] on Washington street received last night a large [illegible] of Columbia river smelt and sells them 3 lbs for 25 cents

TUG ASTORIA.—This tug was brought up last Friday from Astoria in tow of the Ben Holladay The Astoria was taken down after the boiler was removed from the hull and beached The iron shaft was then taken out and the hole stopped up It was the intention to recaulk the hull and thoroughly overhaul it but the weather proved so rough that the matter was postponed for the present Meantime a number of men are engaged in repairing the huge boiler which lies on the wharf just to the rear of the Willamette Iron Works From appearances it will be some time before the Astoria will be in condition to render service but when ready she will be in all respects as good as new

IN GASLIGHT.—Last evening the elegant house of Protection Engine Company was thrown open for the purpose of affording those unable to be present at the house warming an opportunity to make a thorough inspection of the interior of this elegant structure Many availed themselves of the opportunity among whom were quite a number of ladies The members were attentive to visitors and gave all the information required. With a few [illegible] additions the appointments will be complete The Company can justly feel proud of the elegant surroundings Under the glare of the numerous gas jets the well furnished rooms are made most attractive indeed

REMODELED.—Yesterday morning the little steamer Ona which it will be remembered suddenly sprang a leak some weeks ago from overloading and had to be beached at West port came up to the city Since going on the ways the steamer has been entirely remodeled and overhauled Nearly all the upper portion of the cabin has been torn away and the pilot house brought down and placed on the former floor of the same but which is now the roof The wheel has also been enclosed and other material alterations made to the appearance of the craft Henceforth the little steamer will be employed in running about on the lower river among the fisheries

HERA ARRIVED.—These columns contained an account last week of a collision which occurred at sea between the schooner Oregonian and what was supposed to be the schooner Hera By the telegraphic dispatches of Sunday we learn that the Hera arrived at San Francisco on Saturday morning. There was nothing contained in the dispatch as to the collision so that we are left in doubt as to whether the Hera was the craft colliding with the Oregonian or, if she was the vessel, the character and extent of the damages Our San Francisco exchanges will doubtless in a few days, give us information on the subject

ANNOUNCING THE STEAMER.—To afford our citizens information which is eagerly sought after about the time the ocean steamer is due we have had prepared expressly for the purpose a flag of a distinctive hue, bearing the word 'OREGONIAN' which will be unfurled to the breeze immediately on receipt of the telegram announcing the passage of this steamer at Kalama A flagstaff has been erected on the brick building fronting this office from which the flag will be displayed as stated previously, and while the steamer remains in port

TIGHTENED UP.—On the last trip of the steamer Annie Stewart to Astoria she was partially beached and one of the hog chains which had become somewhat loosened was tightened up Some time ago one of these chains was repaired, but it was found very difficult to tighten everything up without backing the boat up on the beach This was done last Saturday without any trouble, and the necessary work accomplished The steamer is again in splendid running condition

WHEEL FINISHED.—Matters on board the Willamette Chief are fast assuming a shape which would indicate that the craft will very soon be ready to make her trial trip Painters are busily engaged in putting on the finishing touches and machinists and carpenters are busily engaged bringing their portion of the work to a close Yesterday the wheel was finished and only waits the painter's brush By the last of the present week unless unexpectedly detained, the new steamer will be ready to make her maiden trip

DRUM CORPS.—We learn that a drum corps has recently been organized in this city under the leadership of R R Anderson The corps at present numbers fourteen members and it is expected soon to add materially to its ranks The members of the corps intend we understand, to start a subscription among the citizens for the purpose of procuring a uniform for the corps

TRANSFERRED.—The old steam boiler which has long rendered good service on the Mary Bell in generating the motive power was loosened from its attachments yesterday and transferred to the new tug Clyde which Mr Congdon is having fitted up Most of the machinery has already been transferred to the new craft and from indications the Clyde will be ready soon to make the trial trip

FAST TIME.—And now we learn that the California's running time, Victoria to Sitka and return, was made in much less time than the Eliza Anderson made the round trip reported as being very fast time between Victoria and Fort Wrangle It is a question in which the friends of each steamer are concerned, and we give the above only as we received it

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U S Signal Station of Observation Portland Oregon, March 16, 1874.

DISINTERESTEDNESS.—As a specimen of the unselfishness of our people we may state that a man died in this city last summer leaving no heirs here to care for his estate, and before noon on Monday four persons had made application to the County Court expressing a willingness to be burdened with the duties of administering on the worldly effects

THE FIRST RUN.—The first run of iron at the Oswego Works was had on last Saturday morning Fire has been burning in the smelting tower for some days and the first blow was given on Saturday. It is the intention of the company is to give a run each day

IMPROVEMENT.—Two neat dwellings which are in course of construction opposite the Congregational Church are being pushed to completion, and when finished will add very much to the improvements in the burnt district

The Sinking Saved.

The combination of tonic alterative and stimulating properties in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters especially adapts that famous specific to the cure of chronic forms of disease when the strong influence of a long protracted morbid habit is to be surmounted In chronic dyspepsia and liver complaint and in chronic constipation and other obstinate diseases it is beyond all comparison the best remedy that can be taken As a means of restoring the strength and vital energy of persons who are sinking under the debilitating effects of painful disorders this standard vegetable invigorant is confessedly unequalled The permanent tonics included in the preparation are associated with a diffusible stimulant absolutely pure and the tendency of the elements is modified by the presence of alterative ingredients slower in their operation and capable of producing more lasting, local and general effects. For feeble convalescents and in all phases of debility it is the best as well as the most agreeable of restoratives

AMUSEMENTS.

This evening a ball will be given at the Emmet Guard Armory the proceeds of which are to be donated to the orphans of St Mary's Academy Preparations have been made on an extensive scale and appearances gives assurance of a merry social evening to those who attend

Thursday evening has been fixed upon by Mr [illegible] lessee of the Skating Rink as the occasion which will be held a grand bal masque [illegible] Very extensive preparations are being made, and among those who propose participating and a pleasant time may be confidently anticipated

Lovers of all room pleasures are requested to bear in mind that the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society will give their 11th annual ball this evening at Ankeny's Hall This Society is one of the oldest and most respectable organization of Portland They have long enjoyed the reputation of giving among the most pleasant and successful parties of the various organizations of the city On this occasion the Society have spared no effort to make the ball all that could be expected or desired The object of the ball is to raise funds with which to build a new hall for the use of the Society We understand that a large number of tickets have been disposed of and there will without doubt be a great many present

The Color Guard at Oro Fino Theater last evening met with a greater reception in point of the numbers who attended than the managers had even dared to expect on the fourth rendition of the piece The house was crowded as before and those who had witnessed the play on Friday and Saturday seemed to enjoy it equally with those to whom it was new and the performers in several parts brought the most enthusiastic cheers from the whole audience The different phases in the life of the soldier are presented in this play with a truthful adherence to actual circumstances and as the spectator watches the departure of the brave boys in blue from the firesides of the North bearing the bright flag of freedom presented by fair hands and follows that flag through the vicissitudes of four years of war into the swamps of the South the dungeons of Libby prison and the mountains of Tennessee and back torn and blood stained but not dishonored to the hands which gave it—he cannot help the feelings of sadness and rejoicing alternating and like giving thanks when the Angel of Peace spreads her wings over the land

The characters represented heretofore as so well sustained were none less interestingly impersonated last night In addition to the parts mentioned by us yesterday morning the character of Susan Maria Hansen was very well sustained by Miss Nettie Watts in a very appropriate and [illegible] manner The tableaux which make an important feature in the play are the best we have ever seen in this city

The unprecedented success with which the managers have met and the request of a large number of persons in our city, have induced the repetition of this play again this evening On Wednesday evening it will be produced probably for the last time by this company in our city as a benefit to Mr White who has rendered great aid in bringing it out on the present occasion

THE STORY OF A HAT

[From the Danbury News]

We learn from newspaper slips and private letters of a rather ridiculous occurrence in Norwalk O. The hero is a prominent and respected Deacon—Deacon C., we understand. The other Sunday he started for church with an old hat on his head. It was an easy hat and the old gentleman enjoyed it. It appears there are pegs to hang hats on in the church there. He thus disposed his head gear on reaching the church, and took his seat with the congregation. When the services were over he lingered as is customary and proper for Deacons to do. He finally reached the porch and stopped for his hat and [illegible] imagine the horror he experienced on beholding but one hat left and that a most dilapidated and scandalous looking article. He could feel his blood boil within him as he looked at it and thought of the mutton head who owned it and walked off with his glossy beaver instead. He said out aloud that the owner of that hat was a muttonhead and ground his deaconish heel into the floor and felt much relieved by so doing. Then he tied a handkerchief about his head because the old hat was much too large for him, and he could not wear it even if flesh and spirit had not revolted against the spectacle. He told the sexton that that hat must have been built in a dry-dock, and that the only thing that troubled him in the matter was how a man with a head of that size got into church anyway. Then he stalked majestically homeward with the red handkerchief wound about his head and the detestable hat held at arm's length ahead of him, and altogether forming a spectacle that fastened the astonished attention of every beholder. Arriving at home he extended the article toward his wife, and waiting an instant for her to take in the awful enormity of the offense he explosively shouted, 'Look at that villainous rag!' She looked at it and was astonished. 'I don't wonder you are sick,' he howled, morosely, 'it makes me sick to think of the bullhead who owns such a smoke stack, palming it off on me, and taking my new beaver for himself in mistake!' (He ground this out with withering sarcasm.) 'A pretty mistake, I must say, when his miserable rag is big enough to cover a cart and filthy enough to make a crow sick.' 'But that's your every day hat,' asserted his wife, in still greater astonishment. "My hat!" gasped the amazed Deacon, staring at her with eyes half way out of their sockets, and then laughing hysterically, and shivering from head to foot. "Certainly it is," persisted his wife, "and here is your best hat," taking this article from its accustomed place, and holding it out to him. Without a word the miserable man sank into a chair, and after staring blankly at his wife for a moment, slowly said 'The ways of Providence are past finding out, rub my head, Matildy!'

THE YELLOWSTONE PARK

It is announced that it will cost the Government one hundred thousand dollars to survey the Yellowstone Park and take measures to prevent its spoliation. This so-called 'national park' is perhaps the most beautiful spot on the continent and has been reserved from sale by the Government with the purpose of at some time converting it into a grand national park, to which tourists from all quarters of the globe can have free access. It is without doubt a magnificent project. It will afford the few wealthy people, who can afford to take a summer trip costing a thousand dollars or more per capita, an opportunity of viewing some of the most magnificent scenery on the face of the globe. It will cost a magnificent sum to put the park in a condition to receive visitors, a magnificent sum to guard it from spoliation and maintain its natural and artificial beauties and will be a magnificent place in which a few scores of wealthy nabobs, some time in the far distant future, can pass a month or two during the heat of the summer. But as a place where the mass of the people can go for a brief respite from the hum-drum toil of every day life, it will be a magnificent failure. It is situated far from any present center of population, is not now and will not be for half a century accessible to any but those of independent means, and is a magnificent and unadulterated humbug. This is the first appropriation asked for it, but is not the last. Unless it is abandoned it will be as successful in absorbing the public money as Robeson's iron clads or the Pacific railways, and will consume in its insatiate maw untold millions of wealth.—Chicago Times

A MILE IN THIRTY ONE SECONDS.—The following story of the achievement in respect of speed in an ice-boat on the Hudson, in the vicinity of Staatsburg, last week is told by the Poughkeepsie Eagle: "Thursday last the wind blew from the south, and the owner of the new ice-boat Cyclone determined to take advantage of the favorable opportunity for timing his yacht. The Hudson at this point is very wide, and at the course selected its breadth is one mile. Having made every preparation for the feat to be accomplished the reef points were shaken out of the sails, and every inch of canvas spread to the gale. With two men on the windward runner, to keep the boat down to the ice, the helm was turned, the sails filled, and in a moment, with every inch of canvas drawing she was under full headway. Like an arrow from a bow she darted away on the course, clouds of pulverized ice following in the track of her runners as they hummed over the surface of the river, and in what seemed but an instant the river had been crossed, and the mile accomplished in the almost incredible time of thirty one seconds, being at the rate of two miles in a minute and two seconds. Persons on shore compared the speed of the flying racer to that of a meteor flashing through the sky, and watched her movements with eager interest. The owner afterward put the boat through some movements on the ice and astonished as well as paralyzed the lookers on, by sailing all the way across the river on one runner the force of the wind throwing her over on her beam ends and raising the windward runner from ten to twelve feet above the ice. Although but few were found willing to partake of the amusement, all seemed disposed to concede in the opinion that ice yachting is the most exhilarating of sports and the evolutions of which one of the yachts is capable, the most graceful of anything they had ever witnessed.

JOSH BILLINGS' DEFINITION OF AN EDITOR.—An editor iz a male being whose bizness iz to navigate a nuze paper. He writes editorials, grinds out poetry, inserts deths and weddings, sorts out manuskripts, keeps a waste basket, blows up the 'devil,' steals matter, fites other people's battles, sells hiz paper for a dollar and 50 cents a year, takes white beans and apple sass for pay, when he can get it, rayzes a large family, works 19 hours out ov every 24, knows no Sunday, gits damned bi everybody, and once in a while whipt by sumboddy, lives poor, dies middle-aged and often broken-hearted, leaves no money, iz rewarded for a life ov toil with a short but free, obituary puff in the nuze papers. Exchanges please copy.

A PROTEST AGAINST THE INDECENCIES OF THE MARDI GRAS AT NASHVILLE.—We have not language to express our sense of the outrage on all decency perpetrated last week in Nashville. The Mardi Gras demonstrations were appalling in their obscenity and licentiousness. Lewd fellows of the baser sort paraded the streets in the evening with loose women almost in a state of nudity. Doggeries were visited by them—dances of the most obscene character were performed and the miserable wretches of both sexes were found at late hours of the night lying about the streets overcome by their drunken debauch. And this is the year of grace 1874—this is the metropolis of Tennessee.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

The ghastliest thing in the world is the humor of a college student. The body of Evans, the New Hampshire murderer after being exhibited in the medical building of Dartmouth College at 25 cents a head was stowed away for dissection safely, it was supposed, but Saturday morning when the college assembled for prayers it was found extended on one of the seats in the freshman quarter of the chapel. The President smiled at the pleasantry and excused the Freshmen from service and the cadaver was removed to the medical building in a wheelbarrow.

A dirty looking man stopped in front of a small boy sitting on a fence, expecting to have some fun by teasing him. 'How much do you weigh,' said the man. 'About as much as you would if you were washed,' the boy said to him.

There [illegible] making [illegible] conflagration of the panic last fall which was caused by an inflated condition of credit is sought. In addition to all the flames [illegible] are [illegible] swimming [illegible] that the next panic will be more [illegible] than the last and will come surely and unexpectedly. If we had more legislation [illegible] Congress [illegible] of Trade [illegible] chants of the country who compose the [illegible] are more capable of judging of the actual needs of trade and commerce than those members of Congress who have had little business experience.

The condition of our local market is not changed in its important features, some additions to the supply having been received and no unusual call for discounts existing, the market remains as at the customary rates at bank and 1½@1¾ per cent for street loans.

Eastern Markets

Advices from New York of the 7th inst., say Coffee has advanced 1¼ cents but was growing less steady. Sugar firm at previous rates. Teas continued depressed and sales can only be effected at fair concessions. Spices are very firm with large sales of Nutmegs at $1 90 gold. Merchantable Flour on the other hand declined a little. Barley is reported dull 1,650 bushels Pacific coast sold at $2. Anthracite Coal dull at $5@ by the cargo. Prime Hops have realized full prices but low grades are depressed. Cables report an advance on the other side which it is thought will check shipments in this direction. Petroleum is lower on account of the discovery of several new flowing wells case selling at 30@ [illegible] as to brand. The prospect of a cessation of shipments of India Rice in this direction owing to the famine thus far has had no perceptible effect on prices. Starch is selling at 1¾@ c. Nails are very dull $4 ₱ keg cut.

Private cable dispatches give the result of the Hudson's Bay Company's sale of Furs showing an advance in cross and silver fox of 20 per cent, a decline of 25 per cent in marten otter and lynx and 10 in mink. Red fox and bear are selling at the old prices asked. Crude Sperm Oil continues very firm being generally held at $1 70.

In common with other branches Dry Goods are greatly depressed and prices instead of being firm as usual at this season are weak. Many kinds of staple Cotton Goods have been reduced from half a cent to one cent per yard during the week. Prices of other fabrics are irregular with sales considerably less than at the same time last year when trade was also unusually dull. Increasing auction sales of imported goods at this early stage of the season is an unerring indication of the state of trade.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market is gradually working down to barren condition as far as transactions are concerned and with the advent of spring like weather the receipts will likely fall off to a merely nominal figure. Exporters are now comparatively idle, having no more ships chartered than are required to carry off the surplus of prior purchases. We find to-day that no change in prices has taken place, the offers being firm at $1 65 ₱ cental.

FLOUR—With very fair receipts the supply accumulating in the market is larger but prices are firm for extra of standard brands, which are quotable at $6 ₱ bbl, while good outside brands command 50c ₱ bbl less. Superfine is in fair demand for shipping at $4 50@

OATS—The trade is quite lively for the season and with no change in quotations. It is remarked that all offering are accepted at 45c ₱ bushel which is the current rate for good.

BARLEY—We notice limited receipts which are disposed of freely to supply the local trade at $1 45 ₱ 100 lbs.

FEED—Stocks are ample at $14 ₱ ton for bran, $22@24 for shorts and $25@27 50 for chops, middlings etc. The approach of spring is likely to depress prices in a few weeks. But few shipments are made.

HAY—The market is fairly supplied at slightly reduced rates. For good baled timothy we quote at $14 ₱ ton, loose do $12 50@1

POTATOES—The demand is still brisk both for shipping and the home trade. Some shipments made on the last steamer but one to San Francisco met with fair sale.

BUTTER—A common article is plentiful at prices ranging from 15@18c ₱ lb while a first rate article is quotable at 30c and receipts of California butter by last steamer sold for 40@42½c ₱ lb, while Oregon butter is quoted in the San Francisco market at 22½c ₱ lb—an anomalous condition in the two markets which reflects no credit on our State.

CHEESE—Oregon made is scarce and commands an advance on quotations last given. Receipts are now held at 18@20c ₱ lb.

BACON—We note no important change, the demand being dull at 9c ₱ lb for shoulders, 10@11c for sides and [illegible]c for hams.

LARD—The week opens with an active demand for warranted lots at [illegible] ₱ lb in kegs and [illegible] in tins.

DRIED FRUIT—A slight advance is noted and good lots of apples in barrels are quotable at [illegible] ₱ lb in sacks [illegible]

EGGS—The supply is in excess of the local demand while there is no call for shipping. We quote our market dull at 16@18c per dozen.

CHICKENS—The receipts and demand are well balanced and best lots are quotable at $[illegible]; common $3 per dozen.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized and directed to advertise for, receive proposals and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder for furnishing oil, wicks, burners and chimneys and keeping in order the street oil lamps for the term of one year subject to the following conditions: the number of lamps required to be lighted under such contract shall not at any time be reduced to less number than one hundred, but the Council may at any time reduce the number of lamps to be lighted [illegible] to that number.

All oil lamps now erected or to be erected during the year and required to be lighted under such contract shall be put in good order with proper burners and other necessary fixtures before being placed in the hands of the contractor.

The Contractor to furnish a good quality of coal oil or kerosene and from time to time as may be required replace all chimneys, burners, etc., with articles of the same size and quality.

He shall keep the fountains and all connected therewith in good repair and keep clean the frames, lanterns, burners and posts.

He shall light and keep lit with a good and sufficient light all of said lamps during the hours specified in the list known as the "Schedule of time for lighting the Street Oil Lamps," filed in the Auditor's office February 1874, and at the expiration of his contract shall return the fountains, burners and everything connected therewith in good order and condition.

Section 2. Said contract shall contain a provision to the effect that for any failure to light or keep lit any lamp or lamps in said contract during any of the hours specified in said list caused by the neglect or carelessness of the contractor he shall forfeit [illegible] therefor and an additional sum equal to one tenth of the monthly contract price for lighting such lamp for each and every night of such failure.

Also to provide for cancelling said contract upon the failure of the contractor to furnish a good and satisfactory [illegible].

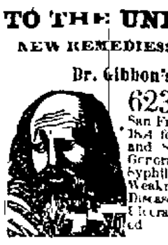
MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!



Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his old office on Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him. Dr. G. has spared none of that time nor expense in procuring remedies, and has returned with all the facilities for the alleviation of suffering.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, there are who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, from virus instilled into the system, until emaciated and disfigured, their constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. [illegible] Let parents, guardians [illegible] those who are suffering with these horrible life destroying maladies—seek the advice and cure before it be too late. [illegible] DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study [illegible] without mercury or any injurious drugs [illegible] those who are afflicted [illegible] the welfare of their [illegible] imposing upon the public [illegible] the names of eminent physicians from other places. Be therefore careful and inquire, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures: [illegible] dark spots under the eyes, the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confusion of ideas, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and unfailing method of treating this disease which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By enclosing ten dollars in coin in registered letter through the Post office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus skill, seek to entrap the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible] carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting false titles, certificates, pretended patents [illegible]. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post office Box [illegible]

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the OREGONIAN.
